

SUPPORTING GLOBAL FEMINIST LEADERS

The Regan Ralph Feminist Leadership Fund

When Regan Ralph became the founding President and CEO of the Fund for Global Human Rights, we were a $1 million start-up. When Regan stepped down in November 2022, our annual budget exceeded $20 million. In recognition of her 20 years of leadership, the Fund established the Regan Ralph Feminist Leadership Fund to honor Regan's commitment to bold new thinking and amplifying women's voices.

Your gift in 2022 helped us surpass our goal of raising $1 million.

"Women's rights activism challenges the status quo by redistributing power—in the family, in the community, in government, and in the workplace."

Regan Ralph
Founding President and CEO

With your support, over the next five years, we are providing feminist leaders the tools, training, and opportunities they need to grow and remain safe. Our investments include:

- Training, professional development, and executive coaching
- Respite for those who need time to recover, recharge, and innovate
- Evacuation for feminist activists facing threats
- Assistance with building second-line leadership and leadership transitions
- Mentorship and shared knowledge opportunities

Regan Ralph Feminist Leadership Fund Grantees

BURUNDI

Women's Association for Repatriated Burundians

strengthens women's leadership among returning refugees

GUATEMALA

La Otra Cooperativa

feminist approach to land and resource rights

INDIA

Rajasthan Domestic Workers Organization

mobilizes and educates women domestic workers

MEXICO

Border Workers' Committee

empowering women laborers to organize

Elige Red de Jóvenes por los Derechos Sexuales y Reproductivos A.C. /Choose Youth Network for Sexual and Reproductive Rights advocates for sexual and reproductive health rights locally and nationally

Justice for our Daughters pursuing accountability for femicide and forced disappearances

Women's Human Rights Center

legal and psychosocial aid for survivors of violence

UGANDA

Action for Women and Awakening in Rural Environment

promotes women's economic and health rights

Center for Domestic Violence Prevention

works to involve whole communities in ending gender-based violence

Terrewode

medical care and psychosocial support for women with obstetric fistula

MEET THE ACTIVISTS: An Inside Look at Two Groups You're Supporting

ELIGE | MEXICO

Elige is a young feminist network and movement working to empower youth to advocate for their sexual and reproductive health and rights. In a society with strong patriarchal norms, the group works to expand access to sexual health education, challenge stigmas, and elevate the voices of young people in decision making around reproductive health policies. Through education and organizing, they also work to remove societal and economic barriers to contraception and abortion. Your support is helping them conduct trainings, lead campaigns, and strengthen their networks and knowledge sharing locally and nationally.

Rajasthan Domestic Workers Organization | INDIA

Rajasthan Domestic Workers Organization is a 7,000-member strong group supporting domestic workers, working through an intersectional lens of gender equality and anti-caste activism. Through research, advocacy, and community-based education, they promote the rights of domestic workers to safe workplaces and access to benefits such as social security. Their work also has expanded to include workers' daughters—providing guidance around higher education, career exploration opportunities, and sexual health education. Your support is helping them increase their membership and strengthen their second-line leadership in the districts where they work.